

Artistic works and computer software

Artistic works are identified using the determine material type rules. For the purpose of determining duration of copyright, 'artistic works' do not include engravings or photographs.

The duration of copyright in artistic works depends on whether they were made by a government body (copyright duration is based on the date the work was made) or an individual creator (copyright duration is based on the creator's death date).

